CANCER INSTITUTE (W.I.A), Adyar, Chennai-20 CSR00007235 AAATC2259F	Rs 25,00,000/- Treatment of Cancer is very expensive. It involves several tests and investigations and the treatment protocol apart from medicines includes specialized procedures such as chemotherapy, surgery and radiation. Many of the patients will not be able to afford such expensive treatment. Keeping in line with the Institute's policy, all patients, including those who cannot afford the treatment, are treated without any discrimination and treatment is offered to such patients. The institute is looking for financial support to sustain its efforts to provide the best possible treatment for all patients without any discrimination based on their socio-economic backgrounds. The specific Objective is to provide the patients affected by this deadly disease, an extended lease of life, alleviation of pain and ensure that the finances of the family are not impacted in a major way due to the cancer. With rapid developments in the medical field, the quality of treatment and care has improved tremendously. Newer techniques like robotic surgery are helping us go beyond areas which were very challenging in the past. A combination of all these gives us the confidence to treat patients better and help in extending their lives.

	The average cost of a cancer treatment could be around Rs. 1.5 to 3, 00,000/-. We seek your support to provide us with support as much possible for us to continue our services to the needy cancer patients. Support from generous minded organizations like you helps us treat more patients who in turn act as ambassadors, spread awareness in the society that there is life after cancer and motivate others to come forward for treatment.
